

WIN HIS LAURELS AS FIRE-FIGHTER

Charles W. Kruger, New Deputy Chief, a Modest Hero, Who Praises Subordinates Rather than Himself.

THE MEN ALL LAUD HIM.

Holds the Stevenson Medal for Having the Best Disciplined Company in the Department, and Has Had Many Narrow Escapes.

The appointment of Chief of Battalion Charles W. Kruger to be Deputy Chief of the First Division is one that meets the approval of the rank and file of the Fire Department. Chief Kruger has always tried to advance the interests of his men rather than his own, and this has endeared him to them. There was general rejoicing when the appointment was announced yesterday.

Chief Kruger is fifty-two years old. He joined the department before he was twenty-one years old, going into the machinists' and repair department. When he was of age he donned a uniform and was assigned to duty in Engine Company No. 7, in Chambers street, near Coe.

Five years later he was made a lieutenant, but he waited eighteen years before a captaincy came his way. When his promotion was rapid, for he was made a chief of battalion in 1887, being assigned headquarters with Hook and Ladder No. 10, in Fulton street, near Church.

Of Wonderful Memory.

He has been for twenty-five years in the district south of Houston street. At one time he was appointed to inspect buildings in that district, and, having a wonderful memory, he remembered the peculiarities of buildings, and this has greatly aided him in his fights against fire. It enabled him to go right to the seat of the fire.

Chief Kruger is modest. He does not care to talk of his own acts of bravery, though his men say there is no braver man in the department. They point to the recent fire in the New York Belling and Packing Company, at No. 25 Park place, where a combustion of arsenic and sulphur made a most poisonous gas. Over thirty men were overcome in that awful gas. Chief Kruger was himself overcome by the smoke, yet he went back into the cellar three times to assure himself that none of his men remained there.

He never tires talking of the exploits of the men in his district. His driver, John Hughes, was recently promoted to a lieutenant for conspicuous bravery. Chief Kruger and Hughes were returning from a fire in West street on Christmas morning. They saw flames coming from the apartments of a family named Hickson on the fifth floor of a Green street tenement. Hughes climbed the waterspout until he reached the fire-escape, and then went up the fire-escape to the fifth floor.

Daring Rescue.

The family were not able to get on the fire-escape, owing to the fact that the fire was in the room which offered the only means of reaching the escape. Hughes, twisting his leg around the fire-escape, reached over and took all the members of the family from the window save one. Then he went into the burning room after the little boy, who had been left behind. He did not get him, however, owing to the fact that the little fellow had fallen through a hole in the ceiling. Hughes then went back looking for his mother, and the boy was smothered to death.

Chief Kruger, in 1884, won the Stevenson medal for having the best-disciplined company in the department. Of twelve heroic acts, seven of which the department were in the district in his command.

Chief Kruger has had some narrow escapes during his term of service in the department. At the fire in the Third Avenue Railroad depot in 1878 he fell three stories to the first floor. Fortunately, he landed in some hay and was not injured. At a fire at Centre and Broome streets he fell through a hole in the way to the cellar. At this time he landed in four feet of water, and this broke his fall. His hand was badly cut at that time by glass.

ALMOST READY TO RAISE BAY RIDGE.

Wreckers Work All Night Putting Hawser in Position Around the Sunken Steamer.

The Merritt & Chapman Wrecking Company had a derick and divers employed throughout the night trying to raise the steamer Bay Ridge, of the Liberty Island line, which was sunk at the Battery in a collision with a New York Central lighter yesterday. They have succeeded in placing hawsers around the bow and middle of the vessel.

All that is needed now is the placing in position of a hawser around the after-part of the steamer, and then the derick will lift her out of the water. When this is done the hole in the vessel's side, which is about 8 feet square, will be patched up with canvas and planks and she will be towed to dry-dock. A new set of upper works will have to be built, as they were almost entirely demolished by the collision.

Derick and Quigley, Battery boatmen, have collected a number of life-preservers and camp stools which they found floating in the water.

DARKNESS IN BOSTON.
Fall Hangs Over City and Lights Needed Near Midday.

BOSTON, Jan. 30.—The dense fog which is interfering with railroad traffic and harbor navigation since Wednesday continued today. Conditions were not quite so bad on the railroads, but on the harbor the fog was as thick and dense as it has been for some days. The fog was so thick that it was difficult to see the lights of the harbor. The fog was so thick that it was difficult to see the lights of the harbor. The fog was so thick that it was difficult to see the lights of the harbor.

LITTLE PIETRO NO MURDERER.

New Evidence Shows that Young Squassa Was Not on Roof When Brick Which Killed Baby Was Thrown.

DEATH DUE TO ACCIDENT.

Because of newly discovered evidence, Judge Newburger did not sentence Pietro Squassa, the eleven-year-old child convicted of manslaughter, to-day.

Pietro was convicted a week ago of killing three-year-old Ambrose Kerrigan, of No. 57 West Thirty-sixth street, Aug. 17 last, with a brick thrown from the roof of No. 55, where the Squassa lived.

Affidavits filed by Lawyer Lewis Stuyvesant Chamler, the boy's counsel, show that instead of little Pietro having thrown the brick which killed Ambrose, Pietro's three-year-old brother Florio accidentally did the killing.

Pietro Not on Roof.

Several witnesses, including the little prisoner's mother and Mrs. Maggie McCabe, janitress of the house No. 57 West Thirty-sixth street, have now sworn that Pietro was not on the roof at the time the Kerrigan child's skull was fractured, but little Florio was, and a few minutes before was engaged in building a toy house on the roof with loose bricks. It is believed he accidentally knocked one of the bricks off the roof, which struck the Kerrigan child.

Agent Kimball, of the Prison Aid Society, after two weeks of investigating, is convinced that the Kerrigan child was killed accidentally by little Florio.

Case Goes Over a Week.

When Pietro was called for sentence to-day Judge Newburger announced that because of the new evidence he would adjourn sentencing until next Friday. "This case has given me much concern," Judge Newburger told the lawyers, and I want to thoroughly satisfy myself that there shall be no miscarriage of justice.

SAILOR DROWNS AT DOCK.

Wood Was Rigging a Line When He Fell Overboard.

Nathaniel Wood, colored, of the crew of the City line steamer Algonquin, tied up at the company's pier, fell overboard while rigging a line to-day and was drowned. The body was not recovered.

He lived at No. 210 West Twenty-ninth street.

MAN ACCIDENTALLY APHYZIATED IN LODGING-HOUSE.

A man thought to be James Carr, a Canadian, was found dead in his bed in the lodging-house at No. 24 East Thirty-fifth street with the gas turned on early to-day. He rented the room yesterday, and nothing is known of him. The death is thought to have been accidental. The cock on the gas jet turns clear around, and it is thought he turned it on by mistake.

HAVE YOU TRIED HAIRINE?
ONLY 15 CTS. A BOTTLE.

It stops falling hair. Clears the scalp of dandruff. Cures all diseases of the scalp. Makes the hair grow. Does not darken blond hair. Hairine, while the cheapest, is the best and most effective hair tonic on the market. Try one bottle and test its wonderful merits. Cures the cost of Hairine and the cost of the hair which it saves. The cost of the hair which it saves. The cost of the hair which it saves. The cost of the hair which it saves.

TOOK A STRAW VOTE.

Interesting Experiment in a Restaurant.

An advertising agent, representing a prominent New York magazine, while on a recent Western trip, was dining one evening in a Pittsburgh restaurant.

While waiting for his order he glanced over his newspaper and noticed the advertisement of a well-known dyspepsia preparation, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. As he himself was a regular user of the tablets, he was anxious to know what the other traveling men in the dining-room were also friends of the popular remedy for indigestion.

He says: "I counted twenty-three men at the tables, and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview them, and was surprised to learn that nine out of the twenty-three made a practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal."

"One of them told me he had suffered so much from stomach trouble that at one time he had been obliged to quit the road, but since using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets had been entirely free from indigestion, but he continued their use, especially while traveling, on account of irregularity in meals and because like all traveling men he was often obliged to eat what he could get and not always what he wanted."

"Another, who looked the picture of health, said he never ate a meal without taking a Stuart Tablet afterward, because he could eat what he pleased and when he pleased, without fear of a sleepless night or any other trouble."

"Still another used them because he was subject to gas on stomach, causing pressure on heart and lungs, shortness of breath and distress in chest, which he no longer experienced since using the tablets regularly."

"Another claimed that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was the only safe remedy he had ever found for sour stomach and acidity. He had formerly used common soda to relieve the trouble, but the tablets were much better and safer to use."

After smoking, drinking or other excesses which weaken the digestive organs, nothing restores the stomach to a healthy, wholesome condition so effectively as Stuart's Tablets. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the natural digestive organs, which every weak stomach lacks, as well as nux, hydrastin and yellow parilla, and can be safely relied upon as a radical cure for every form of poor digestion. Sold by druggists everywhere.

SEAMEN HELD FOR MURDER.

Four of Veronica's Crew Arraigned in Liverpool Court.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 30.—The four seamen of the British bark Veronica, Capt. Shaw, from Ship Island, Miss., for Montevideo, brought here by the British steamer Brunswick, Capt. Brown, from Maranhão, Brazil, via Funchal, Island of Madeira, were remanded at a police court in this city to-day on the charge of murdering Capt. Shaw, two of his officers and four seamen of the Veronica.

Two of the prisoners have made a statement implicating themselves and two others. Another of the accused men, William Smith, an American, who shipped at a Mississippi port, declares their statements to be untrue.
